The Death of Ashby.

Scarcely had he ordered his baggage train to proceed before the enemy opened fire upon his camp. With but two companies of his old cavalry he prepared to meet them; seeing this they immediately withdrew. The command was then moved slowly through Harrisonburg, and drawn up three hundred yards from the opposite end. Soon a regiment of "blue coats" came charging through town, around the bend, in full sight of Ashby's men, who stood upon their trained chargers as if fixed to the ground. When within a very short distance, they commenced to slacken their speed, only giving us time to tender the salute due them. Soon their ranks were broken, and in confusion they fled through the streets.

Never before had I heard our noble General utter such a shout. It was not one caused by victory over a brave foe, after a hard contested fight, but only seemed designed to shame an ignominious band for running before they were hurt. We had begun to entertain a high opinion of this body of cavalry. Upon one instance it flanked and charged upon a battery, which was left without support—a most daring feat for them. (Here Gen. Ashby stood by the guns, and fired every load from his three pistols, and brought everything away safely.) Soon we were moving along the road to Port Republic, the enemy pressing closely. Ashby's eagle eye was upon them, as if watching for an excuse to give them battle. An excuse, and even the necessity for a fight soon became evident. The road was very bad, the train moved slowly, and the main body of the enemy's cavalry was on a mile from its rear. They gave us no time to prepare to meet them. Ashby had but begun to form his men, before three regiments, with colors and music rare, emerged from a woods three-fourths of a mile distant. Bearing to our right, they charged, presenting a beautiful sight. Ashby could contain himself no longer. Gently drawing his sabre, and waving it around his head, his clear, sounding voice rang out his only command—"FOLLOW ME." The dash was simultaneous. Fences were cleared, which at any other time would have been thought impossible. The enemy came to a halt. It was but for a moment. As they heard the strange whiz of the sabre around their heads, they broke and ran. The work of slaughter had commenced. For every step Ashby, followed closely by his men, cut them down, or sent them to the rear. For two miles and a half the chase continued, and the scene became more bloody. Never before did our General or his men use their sabres to such an extent.

None but those who have witnessed a similar scene can imagine the spectacle. Enraged by deeds too horrible to mention—led by a General whose presence exerted a mystic influence over every heart—the bravery of the men knew no limit, and seldom was a summons to surrender heard. The scattered fragments of the three regiments hid themselves behind their column of infantry three miles beyond the point of attack, and the pursuit ended not until this infantry opened fire. Here Ashby drew up his men and remained beneath their fire and waited for reinforcements from Jackson. In this fight, Major Green, of the sixth Virginia cavalry, was slightly wounded. We took forty-four prisoners, among them the colonel commanding the brigade of cavalry. The infantry having arrived, Generals Ashby, Ewell and Stewart, (of Maryland,) led them to the fight. Here Ashby's gallantry could not have been excelled. Having led the first Maryland regiment in a charge which sent the enemy flying from that quarter, he sought the fifty-eight Virginia, and, still between the two fires, he ordered the charge. His horse fell dead. He rose, beckoned to his men, and whilst in the very act, a ball entered low in his left side, came out near the right breast, and shattered his right wrist. He fell—he died. Not even a groan or a sigh was uttered by the dying hero. He was brave whilst living, but braver in dying. The men were not discouraged, but pressed on, and soon the victory was ours. Night closed the fighting. The noble Ashby fell between six and seven in the evening. The news went like a flash through our lines. Every heart was wounded. The aged, the young, and the hard-hearted wept. Nature made deeper the gloom; and soon the darkness of the night made still darker the regions of the mind. He was buried in the University Cemetery, near Charlottesville, but his body was afterwards removed to Winchester.

Mouldy Substances in Rooms.

It has long been known that the presence of moulds in rooms is highly injurious to human health; under certain conditions of dampness and bad ventilation, it is no uncommon thing to see mildew run over a large expanse of white-washed wall or ceiling. If this mould occur in a living room, and it be not destroyed, it frequently brings on a complication of painful symptoms in the human patient, or, in other words, the membranes and tissues of the body are known to offer a fitting habitat for the plant, and it is transferred from the original objects to the human frame. A weak solution of hypochlorate of lime has recently been recommended as a destroyer of moulds in rooms, and as their growth is both common and rapid in this country in damp and ill-ventilated situations, the remedy is worth trial.—Builder.

The Wheat Product.

The agricultural bureau estimates the yield of wheat in the States east of the Rocky Mountains in the year 1866 at 151,000,000 bushels, and estimates the product of the Pacific States at 15,000,000 bushels; but he inclines to the opinion that the total product of the Union was more—nearly 175,000,000 bushels. The crop of 1859, according to the eighth census, was 171,000,000 bushels; that of, 1849 was 100,000,000; giving 72 per cent. for the rate of increase in the decade, at which rate the crop of 1866 should have been 242,000,000, indicating a falling off from the anticipated progress of 67,000,000 of bushels. The great increase in the decade of 1849–59, however, was occasioned by a very short crop in 1849, and a more than average good one in 1859.

Woman's Formidable Rival.

A writer in one of the Northern magazines for February says:

"Humiliating as the truth is, it must be confessed, tobacco is woman's rival. It is the cigar and the pipe, (it used to be wine and punch) that enable men to endure one another during the whole of a long evening."

Family Pride.

First Boy. "My father's a officer." Second Boy. "What officer?" First Boy. "Why a corporal!" Third Boy (evidently "comic.") "So's my father—he's a officer, too—a General he is!" Fourth Boy. "Go along with ye!"—Third Boy. "So he is—he's a General dealer!"

On the departure of Bishop Selwyn for his diocese, New Zealand, Sidney Smith, when taking his leave of him, said: "Good-bye, my dear Selwyn; I hope you will not disagree with the man who eats you!"

Raleigh, Thursday, February 6, 1868.

THE State Conservative Convention assembled in Tucker Hall, in this city, yesday at 12 M. We were sure from the number and character of the delegates, who reached the city on Tuesday, that the body would be one of superior intelligence and respectability. Forty-seven of the eighty-nine counties in the State were represented by about three hundred delegates. Among those present and participating were the Hons. Wm. A. Graham, Thomas Bragg, Z. B. Vance, D. G. Fowle, M. E. Manly, Weldon N. Edwards and a host of others, who have done the people service in our State and National councils. For an account of the action had by the Convention, our readers are referred to the proceedings, published elsewhere.

Should the Convention fail to adopt the name and organization of the Democratic party, we shall regret it. We fear, with all proper deference to the wisdom and experience of its members, that its action will operate injuriously upon the prospects of those, and those only, who are willing and able to grant us relief from the burdens and wrongs imposed upon us by an iniquitous majority in the National Legislature—the Democrats of the Northern and Western States—that it will dampen their ardor and lessen their enthusiasm in the great contest which they are waging for their and our rights and liberties. Our attention has been so much engrossed by our domestic concerns, that we have lost sight of National politics—have almost forgotten that during this present year, the fiercest and most important political struggle of the century must be fought for the solution of the question of negro equality in the rights and privileges of the government. That struggle is between Democrats and Radicals, and between the contestants our sympathies and our instincts make speedy choice. In that struggle we must co-operate with the Democratic party. If we fight, then, in Democratic ranks, give our labor to secure Democratic success and shall be thrilled by intelligence of Democratic victories, why should we hesitate to adopt Democratic designations?

The policy we advocate and the views we have suggested are those adopted by the people of Mississippi, and put into immediate practice by sending Messrs. Sharkey, Yerger and Handy to represent them in the meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee, which convenes in Washington on the 22nd inst. They were endorsed by John Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts, during the campaign in that State for Governor, and received the public approval of Attorney General Stanbery, in the speech delivered at the Democratic banquet in the National Capitol on the 8th of January last. These gentlemen, recognizing the fact that the Democratic party was the party of the Union and the Constitution, manfully declared their adhesion to its ranks. Their example deserves the imitation of all men, like them opposed to radicalism, not only in State, but in National politics.

THE New York Tribune is growing belligerent. The following extract from a recent number of that paper, indicates the determination of the Republican party to control the Government by the bayonet, if it shall fail to do so by the ballot. We beg the Radicals to abide by the advice of the Tribune, and "stand by Congress." If they will do this, we shall have the pleasure of chronicling the grandest Democratic victory ever won on the continent. "Stand by Congress," Radicals! The Democracy, North and South, will stand by the Constitution and the laws, and go forward to assured victory. This is the Tribune's rallying cry:

FORM THE LINES!

The time has come for every sol lier of freedom to look to his musket, and replenish his ammunition-box, and see that he stands well in line. We are on the eve of events that may try the courage and constancy of the best of us. The Democrats, the rebels, and the weak-kneed Republicans, have formed a coalition under the lead of Andrew Johnson, and there is no knowing what step may next be taken.

* * * If Congress falls—if its will is persistently defied, if its work is to be torn to shreds by a vicious President and ambitious soldiers and middle-aged lawyers—then chaos will come to the South, and we shall be in a worse condition than if Lee had conquered in Virginia. * * * We must either stand by one or the other. There is no middle course. So, form the lines and prepare for the contest, and let the war cry be, "Stand by Congress."

NORTH CAROLINA CONSERVAVIVE CONVENTION.

WEDNESDAY, Feb'y 5, 1868.

At eleven o'clock, A. M., the delegates to this body began to assemble at Tucker Hall. The floor of the spacious Hall was soon densely thronged, and near the hour of noon the Convention was called to order by Col. Thomas A. Allison, of Iredell county, upon whose motion, Hon. Richard H. Smith, of the county of Halifax, was elected temporary Chairman.

Mr. Smith addressed the Convention briefly, returning his acknowledgments of the honor conferred upon him. He said the Convention had met under very extraordinary circumstances. If ever in the history of the State there had been a time when the people should speak out boldly in defence of their rights, now was that time. It was both a privilege and an imperative duty to assert now whatever liberties were left us. He would only commend to the Convention prompt action for the preservation of these rights—action wise and dispassionate, that we may appeal to the people on principle and fall or triumph with it.

On motion of Gov. Bragg, Messrs. J. A. Englehard, (of the Wilmington Journal,) Jordan Stone, (of the Roanoke News,) Seaton Gales, (of the Sentinel, Raleigh,) and Lewis Hanes (of the Old North State,) were appointed Secretaries pro tem.

On motion of Rev. Wm. E. Pell, the Secretaries proceeded to enrol the names of delegates, the list being called by counties.

[The names of Plato Durham and Hon. Z. B. Vance elicited tremendous applause.]

The Secretaries announced that 47 counties were represented by 300 delegates. (Applause.)

On motion of Walter L. Steele, Esq., of Richmond, a committee was raised consisting of two delegates from each Congressional District, to nominate permanent officers for the Convention.

The Chairman constituted this committee as follows:

1st District—Rev. R. O. Burton and R. B. Peebles.

2nd District—John Hughes and Dr. A. J. DeRossett.

3rd District—W. L. Steele and John D. Taylor.

4th District—P. C. Cameron and Hon. D. G. Fowle.

5th District—J. R. McLean and B. B. Roberts.

6th District—F. E. Shober and R. F. Simonton.

7th District—A. C. Avery and Marcus Erwin.

Pending the deliberations of this Committee, in response to repeated calls, Gov. Vance addressed the Convention, in his inimitable, mirth-provoking style. He began by narrating an anecdote of an Irishman who, seeing a donkey-engine at work unloading a vessel, exclaimed indignantly, "Ye may puff and smoke and blow as ye like, taking the bread out of a poor man's mouth, but there's one thing yer can't do,—ye can't vote." Neither could he vote; but it was a matter of congratulation with himself that he was still a white man. (Applause and laughter.) He might add that he entertained no prejudice against his own color. Neither was he prejudiced against the black man. He commended their conduct in the past, and especially their fidelity during the war. Those who had gone astray since their liberation, had followed the lead of mean white rascals. For one he was still proud of the past, and rejoiced that he had not yielded to the temptation to disguise his color and don black livery. Though not prepared to signalize his loyalty to the government by thus forswearing himself, he was glad to know, in camp meeting phrase, that he was "still alive and on praying ground." There were many gratifying indications of the coming of better times. The dawn of Conservative reaction was approaching, and its opponents, like the lesser lights that ruled the night, would get out of the way with commendable modesty before sunrise. He knew this—he felt it in his bones. There was, he said, a registered white Conservative majority of thirty or forty thousand voters in North Carolina, and yet delegates had been elected who grossly misrepresent popular sentiment. This apathy of the Conservative whites, he characterized as culpable timidity—criminal cowardice! It would be waste of time to argue that the intelligent, educated white people of the South should rule the State. No argument was needed. Thorough organization—unified, determined effort would ensure success.

The speech of which the above, is a meagre outline elicited frequent applause.

Gov. Graham was then loudly called for.

He said that he did not propose to address the Convention then. It had convened for deliberation and action. When measures were brought forward, he would give the best counsel he could. As a North Carolinian, he was proud of the assemblage before him. He saw many here, who for years past had been connected with public affairs in this State, and was glad to consult with them in concerting means of deliverance from our present deplorable condition. He adverted to the fact that many of these distinguished gentlemen were now deprived of the right of suffrage. He hoped and believed that having reached the bottom of the wheel, at last, we were now going upward. While he deprecated the apathy that existed among the Conservatives, he deemed it attributable to the sloth and negligence of public men of counties and neighborhoods. He hoped that they would not be so remiss in future. If they would turn out and talk with the people—and inspire them with hope and confidence, victory would be assured.

Mr. McAden, in response to the call of the Convention, returned thanks for the compliment, expressed his gratification at seeing so large an assemblage, and augured the best results from its deliberations.

That venerable statesman, Hon. Weldon N. Edwards, was next called, and, rising, was received with hearty applause. He said substantially: "Gentlemen of the Convention—You are about to impose upon me a task I am unwilling to assume. Despite the infirmities of old age, I am here to signify by my presence my approval of this meeting—to endorse its action, and to embark my fortunes, good or bad, on the barge that is freighted with the destiny of the Anglo Saxon race. (Applause.)

Gov. Bragg next addressed the Convention. He said we were living under a despotism—in a land without law or liberty—and the constitution was treated as so much waste paper. Healthy reaction would ensue, if we but do our duty. We owe it to ourselves and to posterity, to do our whole duty in this crisis. Action, organization and energetic work would secure success. The people should be aroused to a sense of their rights. He did not believe in the do-nothing policy. Ruin would be its legitimate result.

The committee on permanent organization, through their chairman, Hon. Daniel G. Fowle, reported as follows:

FOR PRESIDENT:

Hon. William A. Graham, of Orange.

VICE PRESIDENTS:

Hon. Weldon N. Edwards, of Warren; Hon. Lewis Hanes, of Davidson. Richard H. Smith, of Halifax; Samuel Radcliffe, of Craven; John W. Leak, of Richmond; J. P. H. Russ, of Wake; Jesse H. Lindsay, of Guilford; John H. McLaughlin, of Iredell; A. T. Davidson, of Macon; Col. E. D. Hall, of New Hanover; Samuel McD. Tate, of Burke; William M. Robbins, of Rowan, and R. F. Armfield, of Wilkes.

SECRETARIES:

Maj. J. A. Englehard, of New Hanover; Seaton Gales, of Wake; Jordan Stone, of Halifax; W. P. Drake, of Iredell; and J. H. Brinn," of Craven.

The report was adopted by acclamation, its reading being frequently interrupted by outbursts of applause.

Hon. Thos. Bragg, and Col. Thos. A. Allison, of Iredell, were appointed to conduct the President to the chair.

[The Reporter will not do Mr. Graham the injustice of attempting a report of his address to the Convention, from the meagre notes in his possession. He but echoes the universal wish that bespeaks its early publication in extenso.]

The following resolution, offered by Col. E. D. Hall, of New Hanover, was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in the efforts we are about to make to save the country from humiliation and ruin, we will put aside all former party predilections and know only a common purpose to preserve civil liberty and restore a constitutional Union.

On motion of W. L. Steele, Esq., a committee was raised consisting of two delegates from each Judicial District, to report resolutions, and prepare other business for the action of the Convention. Pursuant to this resolution, the President appointed as follows:

First District—Messrs. J. B. Hare, Richard H. Smith.

Second District—Hon. M E. Manly. W. G. Morissey.

Third District—Hon. Thos. Bragg, D. S. Hill.

Fourth District—M. Q. Waddell, Paul C. Cameron.

Fifth District—Walter L. Steele, J. D. Taylor.

Sixth District—Hon. Z. B. Vance, Hon. Lewis Hanes.

Seventh District—A. C. Avery, R. F. Armfield.

Eighth District—Morrison, A. T. Davidson.

On motion of Rev. R. O. Burton, it was ordered that when the Convention adjourned, it adjourn to convene at ten o'clock, A. M., to-morrow in this Hall.

Announcement was also made, that delegates to the Convention would meet at seven and a half o'clock, P. M., in Common's Hall, the use of which had been tendered this Convention by the body there in session.

On motion of Mr. J. F. Hoke, it was ordered that a Committee of five be appointed to report at the next meeting, a plan or organization for the approaching campaign.

The President appointed under this resolution, Messrs. J. F. Hoke, R. C. Badger, W. F. Green, G. N. Folk and John Hughes.

The Convention then adjourned.

The Reconstruction "Burnt Cork" Convention.

(BY OUR SPECIAL REPORTER UNDER THE TABLE.)

[The reader is particularly requested to remember the fact that no Reporter for this paper is allowed on the floor, in the halls or in the galleries of the Convention, and consequently our reports are made from under the table, behind the scenes, or as may be otherwise ordered and convenient.]

TWENTIETH DAY.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 5, 1868.

The Convention was to order promptly at the hour of ten.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. May of the Convention.

Journal of Tuesday read and corrected by our official report from under the table.

Report satisfactory and approved.

PETITIONS, &c.

Mr. Patrick, of Greene, a petition by a black brother of his from Greene, praying a divorce from his fair, but false wife. The gentleman had no personal knowledge to relate regarding the matter, and he consented to its reference to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Benbow, of Ashe, Alleghany, Surry, Watauga and Yadkin, was granted leave of absence in consequence of illness.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Jones, of Washington, from the Committee on Corporations, submitted the following:

A resolution providing that no Banks of issue shall be established in this State. The committee, at its request, was discharged from further consideration.

A resolution in regard to the lien law of the State. The committee asked, and was discharged from further consideration.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Rich, of Pitt, offered a resolution, instructing the Finance Committee to negotiate a loan of $500 for contingent expenses of the Convention, and asked for a suspension of the rules to put it before the house, which request was granted, and the resolution passed.

Mr. Abbott, of Shaker Land, moved that the report of the Committee on Legislature be recommitted for amendment. Motion prevailed.

Mr. Forkner, of Surry, moved to refer the report of Gen. Canby, giving the returns of the late elections, to the Committee on Elections and Privileges. Adopted.

Mr. Jones, of Caldwell, moved to recommit the report from the Committee on Homesteads. Motion prevailed.

Mr. Ellis, of Catawba, moved to take up his resolution offered a few days ago in regard to memorializing Congress to aid the President of the United States in testing the constitutionality of the Reconstruction Acts.

Mr. King, of Lenoir, objected.

Mr. Congleton, of Carteret, wished to dispose of the Relief Bill before anything else.

Mr. Ellis moved to suspend the rules to take up his resolution.

Mr. Tourgee, of Guilford, said the motion was out of order.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The question recurred upon Hood's motion, made yesterday, to postpone the matter until the Report of the Committee on Homesteads was disposed of.

Mr. Tourgee objected to the postponement.

Mr. Rich said that if the delegate from Cumberland had withdrawn his motion to postpone, he would, when ending his remarks, make a motion to postpone, for the reason that no response had been made from the sheriff's who were required to give the number of executions and collections thereon. He, therefore, moved to postpone until Monday next.

Harris, of Wake, nigger, favored the motion.

Mr. Tourgee then proceeded to give his objections to a postponement of the question.

Mr. Watts, the Martin warrior, also objected to a postponement, and said some gentleman may have the Homestead Bill as a pet theme, but his pet theme was the Relief Bill. His interest in the matter was so great that he thought that if they failed to pass some measure of relief it would be disastrous to the Constitution.

Hood, nigger, withdrew the motion to postpone.

Galloway, nigger, said that he would not allow himself to be set in a false light before the people—as he had said yesterday, he was opposed to utter repudiation of either State or private debts. An honest man will pay his debts always.

Mr. Welker, from Guilford, said he did hope the house would vote the motion for a suspension, made by Mr. Rich, down, and every other motion made to that effect.

Mr. Rich hoped the reports from the Sheriffs would be read.

The President therefore had the reports read from the Sheriffs of Mecklenburg and Stanley counties, giving the number of executions and the collections therein.

Mr. May, of Cherokee, favored the motion to postpone.

Mr. Watts—Will the gentleman allow me to ask him how long he wishes to postpone the question of relief?

Mr. May—Until a certain period is proposed.

Mr. Hoffler of Gates, said, as numbers of letters were being received by delegates every day asking for relief, that he hoped the question would not be postponed another hour.

Mr. Heaton from Craven, was also opposed to a postponement, as the urgent necessities of the people demanded some immediate relief, and hoped the motion would be voted down. It was only for a temporary relief, and not to be placed in the Constitution.

The motion was then put and decided in the negative.

Mr. King, of Lenoir, said the ordinance was unconstitutional. The learned author had admitted it—it was nothing more than a law suspending the functions of the Courts. Gentlemen were speaking of letters received from the people asking for relief—they were letters from the few, and not from the mass of the people. It was a plan to cheat the honest creditor out of his just dues, and said that he was opposed to any such improper legislation. If gentlemen wish to stop the sales of executions, let the Courts go on, and stop the Sheriffs from their sales. The proposition was one looking to utter repudiation.

Mr. Abbott wanted the subject disposed of, though he would be meeting the issue with reluctance. He would support Mr. Rodman's ordinance with Mr. Tourgee's amendment.

The question was then put before the house with the amendment of Mr. Graham, of Orange, and decided in the negative –ayes 18, noes 88.

The amendment of Mr. Jones, of Washington, to the ordinance was then put before the house and lost—ayes 27; noes 59.

Mr. Tourgee then offered an amendment.

Mr. Welker withdrew his amendment offered last Saturday, as Mr. Tourgee's covered the whole ground.

Mr. Heaton could not vote for the ordinance as amended by Mr. Tourgee. He would vote for the original bill as a temporary relief.

Mr. Jones, of Washington, said he looked upon the bill in its present amended form as a monstrosity.

Mr. King, of Lincoln, said that if this Convention satisfied the clamoring of the few who had applied to it for relief, the very same men would have a clamoring for a change the very next time the Legislature assembled, and hoped the Convention would exercise sound sense by rejecting the proposition before the house.

The amendment of Mr. Tourgee was then put and lost—ayes 39; nays 67.

The question then recurring on the original bill.

Mr. Pool moved to amend by striking out "of," and inserting "to issue or enforce execution," in 3d line, and in 10th line, strike out "of" and insert "in," and strike out "or process," in Section 1, which was accepted by Mr. Rodman.

Mr. Tourgee moved to lay the ordinance on the table.

The ayes and noes were demanded, and after the call of the ayes and noes, the vote stood—ayes 42, noes 58.

Mr. Watts moved to strike out the amendment introduced by Mr. Pool, and reinstate the ordinance as first read before the House. Motion prevailed.

Galloway, (nigger,) moved the adoption of the previous question, and called for the ayes and noes, which resulted as follows:

Ayes, 57—Nays, 39. Ordinance adopted.

The following is the Relief Bill, as passed, in its original form:—

AN ORDINANCE RESPECTING THE JURISDICTION OF THE COURTS OF THIS STATE.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained by the people of North Carolina in Convention assembled, That no Court of law or Equity of this State shall have jurisdiction of any suit or action founded on any contract made prior to the first day of May, 1866, (except actions against public officers, executors, administrators, guardians, trustees, and others acting in a fiduciary capacity, and their sureties for breach of their respective duties, by the appropriation to their own use of money or property officially received by them or other fraudulent act,) or of any action or process to revive or enforce any judgment heretofore recovered on any such contract, whether such action be now pending, or shall be commenced hereafter, and whether such process has been already issued or shall be hereafter sued for; and the sheriffs, coroners and constables of this State, coroners and constables of this State, having in their hands any final process issued upon any judgment founded on such cause of action, are hereby commanded to stay all proceedings upon the same, and return the same to the proper courts.

SEC. 2. This ordinance shall be in force from its ratification by this Convention, and shall continue in force until the first day of July, 1868, or until the Constitution, which this Convention has met to adopt, shall go into effect, whichever shall first happen.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing ordinance be sent to Major General Canby, commanding, &c., and he be respectfully requested to cause the same to be enforced.

Mr. Abbott stated for the information of the house that members could get their mileage cashed at the National Bank without discount.

Mr. Laflin of Pitt, moved the use of the Commons Hall be tendered to the Conservative Convention after adjournment this evening, at the request of a Conservative member of the Convention. To this proposition the Reverend Hypocrite, and Pharisaical Welker from Guilford, manifested a disposition not to grant the request, but in this he was not sustained by any delegate on the floor, and the old Puritan blasphemer shrunk back into his seat with the meanness of three generations of the Welkers depicted on his hang-dog countenance.

Mr. Heaton moved to take up the report of the Committee on Executive Department—which motion was carred and the report was then read.

Pending its consideration,

Mr. May moved to adjourn, which motion was carried.

OUR NOON DISPATCHES.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.

The President and Mr. Stanton have had neither written nor personal communition since the 12th of August last.

The letter of the President to Gen. Grant, written on the 31st ultimo, contains this paragraph:

"You had found in our first conference that the President was desirous of keeping Mr. Stanton out of office, whether sustained in his suspension or not. You know what reasons had induced the President to ask from you a promise.—You also know, that in case your views of duty did not accord with his own convictions, it was his purpose to fill your place by another appointment. Even ignoring the existence of a positive understanding between us, these conclusions were plainly deducible from our various conversations. It is certain, however, that even under these circumstances, you did not offer to return the place to my possession, but according to your own statements placed yourself in a position, when, could I have anticipated your action, I would have been compelled to ask of you, as I was compelled to ask of your predecessor in the War Department, a letter of resignation or else to resort to the more disagreeable expedient of suspending you by a successor."

Gen. Grant's letter of the 3rd of February, alluding to the President's letter of the 31st, and to newspaper articles, says:

"I find it to be but a reiteration, only somewhat more in detail, of the many and gross misrepresentations contained in these articles, and which my statement of the facts sent forth in my letter of the 28th ult., was intended to correct, and here I re-assert the correctness of my statements in that letter, anything in yours in reply to it, to the contrary notwithstanding."

The Judiciary Committee of the Senate reports unfavorably on the Bouligny land claim.

The President to-day nominated F. W. Scott, of Tennessee, as consul at Matamoras.

Eleven set speeches were made on the subject of reconstruction to-day.

First mortgage bonds of the Union Pacific Railroad, advanced from 95 to par.

The Reconstruction Committee will report favorably on the bill removing Gov. Patton's disabilities.

The same committee discussed the correspondence between the President and Gen. Grant. No action taken.

The Senate confirmed Gideon H. Hollester, of Connecticut, as Minister Resident and Consul General to Hayti.

Gen. Howard has issued a circular stating that officers, under the rank of Major, mustered out but retained in the Bureau, should be paid $150 per month.

OUR MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

South Carolina Convention.

CHARLESTON, Feb. 5.

In the Convention to-day the Bill of Rights was read for the first time. It is liberal in its provisions. The right of suffrage is asserted without qualification. The entire judiciary system of the State has been changed. The officers of the courts, with few exceptions, are to be elected by the people. The change in the judicial system renders legal proceedings much more expensive. The terms of the officers vary from two to four years. A new penal code is to be prepared and is to be revised decennially.

The constitution provides for a school system, compelling the attendance of all children between 6 and 16 years of age for twenty-four months. A reformatory school and agricultural college is to be established. All schools and colleges supported by public funds are to be open to all, irrespective of race or color.

Virginia Convention.

RICHMOND, Feb. 5.

The Convention to-day adopted the fifth section of the Ordinance on Executive, with an amendment requiring the assent of two-thirds of the members of the Legislature to call an extra session.

Georgia Convention, &c.

ATLANTA, Feb. 5.

The Convention passed the relief clause to-day, by a vote of 82 to 45. It deprives the courts of jurisdiction over all debts contracted prior to the surrender, but leaves it discretionary with a majority of the Legislature to confer jurisdiction in all cases except as to the purchase of slaves.

Richardson, the member who was shot by Temmony, on the 3d, is thought to be mortally wounded. The ball passed through the right lung.

THE

NORTH CAROLINIAN,

A DAILY,

Democratic Newspaper,

PUBLISHED AT

RALEIGH, N. C.

W. A. HEARNE, JOHN W. DUNHAM,

EDITORS.

The NORTH CAROLINIAN is Democratic in its principles. It is unalterably opposed to Negro Suffrage, Military rule, and Reconstruction upon the basis of Congressional enactment.

Its Editors believe and teach that this is a

WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT,

FRAMED BY THE BRAINS, AND

WON BY THE BLOOD OF WHITE MEN,

FOR THE BENEFIT OF WHITE MEN,

AND THAT IT SHOULD BE

CONTROLLED BY WHITE MEN ONLY.

As there is but ONE NATIONAL ORGANIZATION professing these sentiments and committed to their maintenance, the NORTH CAROLINIAN will steadily advocate the abandonment of all other party names and organizations, and yield a hearty co-operation with that organization—the NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

THE NORTH CAROLINIAN,

Will contain the freshest News, by telegraph and otherwise. Full reports of all Legislative Assemblies will be furnished its readers.

Particular attention will be paid to State news, and each number will contain a complete epitome of every incident reported in the State press.

MARKETS will be carefully reported.

DELEGATES TO THE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.

Owing to the late hour at which we received the names of the delegates to the Convention, we found it necessary to omit them. They will appear to-morrow

PERSONAL.

We were favored with a call yesterday from Mr. Jordan Stone, of the Weldon News, and R. M. Furman, of the Henderson Index, both of whom are young men of sprightly intelligence, varied accomplishments, and indomitable energy and perseverance. They are here representing their respective sections in the Conservative Convention.

HOW THEY DO IT DOWN SOUTH.

A reporter in the Mississippi Convention omitted the title of "Mister" in giving the name of a nigger delegate; whereupon a motion was made the next day to expel any reporter who "makes a distinction in members of the Convention." It failed by only three votes.

THE CONSERVATIVES AT THE NORTH.

That our readers may fully understand and appreciate the gains with which the opposition to radicalism at the North is swelling its ranks, we copy the following paragraph which we find going the rounds of the press:

Among the speakers who will take part in the New Hampshire campaign, on the Conservative side, are Senator Doolittle, Hon. George H. Pendleton, Hon. D. W. Voorhees, Montgomery Blair, Hon. Emerson Etheridge, Hon. E. F. Pillsbury, and others.

In the name of such we protest against the above statement, and as a matter of justice, we ask when did these gentlemen, especially Pendleton and Voorhees announce their withdrawal from the Democratic party, and who has seen any announcement of their connection with the Conservative party at the North or South.

MAKING HISTORY.

Appreciating, as we do, the necessity for some keen, if not caustic pen of history, to combat the foul "aspersions" sought to be "cast upon the Constitutional Convention now in session," we desire to add interest as well as incident to the "biographical sketches" of delegates, which work it is proposed to issue within a short time.

As a preface to that interesting collection, we desire to contribute a brief sketch of the proposed historian, which it is thought will do very well to go in as a preface to the book. Of W. M. Coleman, the compiler of this work, which is destined to be handed down to the "archives of gravity," little is known, save that he was at one time a native of Concord, in this State. It used to be related of him, that he left that delightful country retreat, with great precipitancy; in fact, so impulsive was his departure that he took very little of his personal property with him, only the shirt he happened to have on when he made up his mind to change his local habitation. The cause of this movement, tradition says, was a foolish prejudice which had sprung up in the minds of the people of Cabarrus, generally, and of the "Loyal League" of Concord, in particular.

The circumstances which placed W. M. Coleman in an unreasonable and unfavorable light before the inhabitants of the land of his nativity, were of the most loyal, while they were of a very trifling and insignificant character, being nothing more nor less than a partially successful attempt to commit rape on the person of the wife of a gentleman of color living in the town of Concord, county of Cabarrus, State of North Carolina.

And this is the man who proposes to relieve the Convention of North Carolina of the "aspersions which have been cast" upon it.

With a "fellow feeling" truly commendable in W. M. Coleman, he undertakes the defence of his fellows in that "trooly loil" body in the Capitol.

We commend the forth-coming work to all lovers of loyal literature, and we assure Mr. Coleman that in the labors incident to his arduous undertaking he has our sympathies, and may at any time command our assistance.

At present we do not choose to enlarge upon the facts in our possession, relating to the life of the distinguished historian of the Constitutional Convention of North Carolina, but if it is deemed necessary to give a history of the attempted rape and pending suit at law arising therefrom, at any subsequent time, we will do so with hearty pleasure.

Wife (anxiously)—"What did that young lady observe that passed just now? Husband (with a smile of calm delight)—"Why, my love, she observed rather a good looking man walking with an elderly female—that's all! ahem."

DO THE NIGGERS WANT OFFICES.

It will be remembered that when the Honorable Wilson Carey, Esq., of Caswell, introduced a resolution demanding that the office of Lieutenant-Governor should be only conferred on a nigger, the Honorable Mr. James Henry Harris, Esq., of Wake, violently opposed the measure, stating as the very magnanimous reason, that his race did not want the offices. The following intelligence from Louisiana, will somewhat controvert the statement of the delegate from Wake:

In Louisiana the caucus of the Radical Convention nominated a white man for Governor, and a negro for Lieutenant Governor. But the Tribune, the Radical organ in the State, repudiates the white nominee, and runs up the name of one Taliaferro, negro, for Governor. So its ticket, sustained by one wing of the party, is black throughout—for both Governor and Lieutenant Governor. As the negroes really furnish nearly all the voters of the party in Louisiana, as in all the other Southern States, their right to the offices cannot fairly be disputed by the few whites who affiliate with them. But the whites only went in for the offices, and therefore appropriate to themselves all that they can get. Their greediness appears to have disgusted the negroes in Louisiana.

CITY AND STATE.

The City Hotel, Wilmington.

We paid a visit to Wilmington, on the Cape Fear, last week, and during our stay in that delightful city, we were the guest of our old particular friend, Lem Hodges, the clever and accommodating proprietor of the City Hotel, one of the best houses of entertainment in the Cape Fear region. We found the table of "the City," all that our appetites could desire, and the bar about as good a place to "smile" as we know of.

We take much pleasure in commending the entire establishment to those of our readers who may desire to be most hospitably and agreeably entertained when visiting Wilmington.

Sentenced to be Hanged.

At the session of the Superior Court for Pitt county last week, His Honor Judge Warren, presiding, Richard Jackson and Needham Evans, niggers, were arraigned for the murder of Willis Briley, a white man, in December last. The evidence elicited fully substantiating the charge, the accused was convicted and sentenced to be hanged on Friday the 14th inst.

F. B. Satterthwaite, George W. Johnson and Germain Bernard, Esq., were assigned as counsel for the defense, and, we learn, made earnest and eloquent efforts in behalf of the condemned. Attorney General Rogers, assisted by Mr. Monroe, conducted the prosecution.

Five other niggers arraigned on the same indictment with Briley, were released, the evidence being insufficient to connect them with the murder. Jno. Miller, another nigger connected with the murder escaped conviction by turning State's evidence.

Five prisoners confined in the Goldsboro jail—one for murder, two for horse-stealing, and two others for larceny—escaped on Monday evening just before dark, by committing an assault upon Mr. W. E. Davis, the guard. They inflicted a very severe wound upon Mr. Davis by striking him on the head with a bar of iron.

THE NEW FREEDMAN'S BUREAU BILL.—The first section provides for the continuance of the Bureau for one year after July 16, 1868. The second section directs the Secretory of War to withdraw the Bureau from States represented in Congress, unless after consultation with the Commissioner and upon his own examination, he is satisfied that it should be constined; provided that the educational division shall not be effected until suitable provision is made within the State for the education of the children of freedmen. The third section permits the Commissioner to apply unexpended balances not required for the due execution of the law for educational purposes, subject to the provisions of law applicable thereto.

Why are country girl's cheeks like well-printed cottons? Because they are warranted to wash and—keep color.

He is not poor that hath little, but he that desireth much.

Why was Bulwer more likely to get tired of novel-writing than Warren? Because Bulwer wrote "Night and Morning," Warren only "Now and Then."

40 YEARS.
DEEMS' Southern Hepatic Pills, are made and sold by the discoverer, that old and well-tried remedy for all diseases caused by DISEASED LIVER, which is attended with all the symptoms of Consumptions. In 1825 the Discoverer was reduced to a mere skeleton, and was pronounced by three of the most skillful physicians of one of our largest cities, to be in an advanced stage of Consumption, and beyond cure. He then began to try experiments on himself, and after many efforts discovered (by the help of an Indian) the remedy which wrought in him a perfect cure. He is now in the 78th year of his age, and at this advanced stage of life retains an excellent constitution. In 32 years itinerating in the ministry, he has seen more than a thousand persons, who were given up to die of Consumption as beyond cure, dragging out a miserable existence, not knowing what ailed them, they were cured by these Hepatic Pill, and afterwards enjoyed the most perfect health.
There is in these Pills a peculiar combination with an article which has probably never before been used as a medicine. They are highly strengthening, and mild in their action on the bowels. In the preparation of these very superior and excellent Pills, no cost or trouble is spared, to insure the greatest possible degree of perfection, in point of utility, excellence and comfort; the advantage in these Pills, therefore, is that a cure must be radical and complete, without the necessity of incorporating such drugs into our Pills as to break down the system in one part to remove the disease in another, and leave the patient to groan under worse diseases than heretofore. Where these Pills are known, especially in the Southern States, where they have been used so extensively, they need no recommendation, their merits are so well known by their results, which has given them a reputation that has brought them into great demand. They are therefore destined to be, at no distant day, the only remedy recognized and used by the people where billious diseases are so prevalent.
They can be sent to any point in the United States by mail or express.
Price:—25 cents per box, $2 50 per doz. By the gross, $18. The cash must either accompany the order for the Medicine, or it will be sent C. O. D. Address G. W. DEEMS,

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE WORST CASES OF SCROFULA. READ THE STATEMENT BELOW, AND DESPAIR NOT.
WILSON COUNTY, Sept. 10, 1867.
DR. J. J. LAWRENCE:
Dear Sir—My youngest daughter, aged five years, has been dreadfully afflicted with Scrofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many Physicians, but without relieving her much; in fact, most of them said there was no hope of cure.—During the last Spring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try your Rosadalis. I at once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well.
I am, sir,
Yours, with respect and gratitude,
W. W. BURNETT.

ROSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES.
WILSON, N. C., Sept. 15, 1867.
DR. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir:—In 1862 my son, now aged five years, was vaccinated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an inveterate and extremely troublesome Eruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosadalis was prescribed by my family physician—Dr. A. D. Moore. After taking it a few weeks, my son became and remains entirely well.
Yours truly,
J. B. DANIEL.

I know of several others in this County, cured through the use of the Rosadalis, and it can be found in nearly every house in my neighborhood, and they all praise it as a great medicine.

"Found Dead in the Street."

The labor is over and done;
The sun has gone down the West;
The birds are asleep every one,
And the world has gone to rest—
Sleepers on beds of down.
'Neath cover of silk and gold;
Soft, as on roses new-blown,
Slept the great monarch of old!
Sleepers on mother,s breast,
Cosy as birds in their nest,
With never a thought of harm!
Sleepers in garrets high,
'Neath coverlet ragged and old;
And one little sleeper all under the sky,
Out in the night and the cold!
Alone in the wide, wide world,
Christless, motherless he;
Begging or stealing to live, and whirled
Like waif on an angry sea.

The daisy looks up from the grass,
Fresh from the fingers of Night,
To welcome the birds as they pass,
And drink in fresh rivers of light.
Sleepers on mother's breast,
Waken to summer and mirth,;
But one little sleeper has gone to his rest,
Never to waken on earth—
Dead—found dead in the street—
All forsaken and lorn: |
Damp from the head to the feet,
With the dews of the sweet May morn,

Dead—for the want of a crust?
Dead—in the cold night air!
Dead—and under the dust,
Without ever a word of prayer:
In the heart of the wealthiest city
In this most Christian land,
Without ever a word of pity,
Or the touch of a kindly hand!

George Wilkins Kendall.

The New Orleans Picayune completed its thirty-first year on the 25th ult. In celebrating the anniversary, the Picayune pays a tribute to the memory of the late George W. Kendall, its senior proprietor and founder. With regard to the place of Mr. Kendall's death, the following reflections are suggested:

When Mr. Kendall, a young man coming first into business, founded the Picayune, the place on which he died, in a quiet American homestead, was a far-off wilderness in a foreign country. No road pointed towards it; the language of those who claimed the sovereignty was a foreign language; the nearest settlements were of a wild frontier cast, of mixed races, whose lawlessness was a proverb with which to terrify civilized communities. Even Manifest Destiny, with grasping vision, looked to it as only an acquisition of some other century.

He had not reached the span the Psalmist allows to the life of a man when this wilderness had been reached and overpassed in the march of civilization; forest and prairie had been subdued to human use; society and refinement followed, bringing with them his kindred language, and manners, and laws. His body reposes in a Christian cemetery, among peaceful settlements of an industrious population; and the visions of aspiring Destiny have expanded the whole breadth of an empire to the shores of the Great Sea.

Our Style.

Notwithstanding the proverb, a writer steps forward to defend whistling girls in this independent fashion: "Show me the girl who has the hardihood to whistle in these days, when everything natural, even to the very hair of your head, is at a discount, and I'll show you a girl who can be depended upon, one who will not fail you in time of need, and will give you the true, hearty grasp, the cordial handshake, the warm, genuine welcome; no tip of the kid glove and a cold 'how do you do?' who can brave danger, look toil in the face without shrinking, laugh with those who laugh, and weep with those who weep; as well as whistle with those who whistle; who can, in short, take the world as she finds it, rough and rugged, and not go through life as though she were walking on eggs and afraid of cracking a shell; who deals in substance, not shadow."

The Doom of Infidelity.

There is no life or permanence in infidelity and error. They may be cherished for an age, or even during a succession of ages; but sooner or later they will decay and die. A writer in Boston says:

"Theodore Parker's vast congregation of twenty-five hundred is now of the things past. Music Hall opens her doors as of old, and smilingly invites the multitude, but few there be that heed the call. A remnant of the congregation holds together, and (we believe) the Rev. Samuel Longfellow, formerly of Brooklyn semi-occasionally ministers to it."

Posing a Pedagogue.

"Sally Jones, have you done that sum I set you?"

"No thir, I can't do it."

"Can't do it? I'm ashamed of you. Why, at your age I could do any sum that was set me. I hate that word can't! for there is no sum that can't be done I tell you."

"I think, thir, that I know a thum you can't thifer out."

"Ha! well Sally let's hear it."

"It ith thith thir:—If one apple cauthed the ruin of the whole human rath, how many thutch will it take to make a barrel of thider, thir?"

"Miss Sally Jones, you may return to your parsing lesson." "Yeth thir."

How to Make an Old Merino New.

There may be some among our fair readers who will be interested in knowing that an old merino dress may be made to look as good as new by first ripping to pieces the skirt, and afterwards washing each breadth seperately, in warm suds, being careful to rinse on y in clear warm water or suds. Cold water after warm water will shrink any kind of woolen goods. Iron, while quite damp, on the wrong side. Afterwards fold once double on the right side, placing over it a clean newspaper (don't use a Radical sheet,) and iron with a very hot flat iron, in this way making the seam fold in all new double fold goods.—Exchange.

A writer illustrating the fact that some errors are lifted into importance by efforts to refute them, when they need to be treated with contempt and ridicule, observes that all the blows inflicted by the herculean club of certain logicians are not half so effectual as a box on the ear of a celebrated atheist by the hand of some charming beauty. After having in vain preached to a circle of ladies, he attempted to avenge himself by saying: "Pardon my error, ladies, I did not imagine that in a house where wit lives with grace, I alone should have the honor of not believing in God." "You are not alone, sir," answered the mistress of the house; "my horse, my dog, my cat, share the honor with you; only these poor brutes have the sense not to boast of it."

Two good-natured Irishmen on a certain occasion occupied the same bed. In the morning one of them inquired of the other:

'Dennis, did you hear the thunder last night?'

'No, Pat; did it raily thunder?'

'It thundered as if hiven and airth would come togither.'

'Why in the divil thin, didn't ye wake me, for ye know I can't slape whin it thunders.'

The "Commonwealth," published at Lincoln, in Nebraska, says: "A short time since we saw a man driving a team over the town site loaded with lumber and household furniture. He had a plan of the city in his hand, and every little while he would stop and examine the stakes. After a long search he succeeded in finding his lot. He immediately proceeded to unload his wagon, and in five hours from that time had a house up and was living in it."

LATEST NEWS TO THE FARMERS OF North Carolina.

Your attention is called to my large stock of Agricultural Implements, Iron Steel, &c., &c.

Corn and Cotton Planters, Corn Shellers, Hay, Shuck and Corn Stalk Cutters, Fan Mills, Plows, of every kind, Harrows and Cultivators, Spades, Shovels Forks, Brier Hooks, Iron Axles, Springs, Cart & Wagon Boxes, &c.

I call particular attention to BILLUP'S CENTREBOARD COTTON SCRAPER, and to BILLUP'S DIXIE PLOW. The first is warranted to be the best Scraper ever yet invented, and the Farmers are requested to test its merits in connection with any other kind. The Dixie Plow is freer from choking than any other yet made; will pass through the ground with less power, and do better work than any other kind. This is no vain boast. 'Tis easy to claim superiority; hence I ask a trial.

If Farmers are not satisfied, the money will be refunded.

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE WORST CASES OF SCROFULA. READ THE STATEMENT BELOW, AND DESPAIR NOT.

WILSON COUNTY, Sept. 10, 1867.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE:

Dear Sir—My youngest daughter, aged five years, has been dreadfully afflicted with Scrofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many Physicians, but without relieving her much; in fact, most of them said there was no hope of cure.—During the last Spring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try your Rosadalis. I at once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well.

I am, sir,
Yours, with respect and gratitude,
W. W. BURNETT.

ROSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES.

WILSON, N. C., Sept. 15, 1867.

DR. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir:—In 1862 my son, now aged five years, was vaccinated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an inveterate and extremely troublesome Eruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosadalis was prescribed by my family physician—Dr. A. D. Moore. After taking it a few weeks, my son became and remains entirely well.
Yours truly,
J. B. DANIEL.

CHRONIC LIVER COMPLAINT CURED.

This is to certify that I was cured of Chronic Liver Complaint by Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis, after having been confined to my bed and house for a long time, and trying various medicines without benefit.

I know of several others in this County, cured through the use of the Rosadalis, and it can be found in nearly every house in my neighborhood, and they all praise it as a great medicine.
